In Memory of Tyron Michael Henry

On Mothers Day 1988 a fellow Falcon was removed by a fatal gun shot in Richmond, Virginia. Tyron Michael Henry, known to many as Tyron, was a great friend to those who knew him. Tyron was an avid tennis player and was on the tennis team for three years as one of the star players. He was a true Falcon and a leader during his short stay here. The class of 1989 dedicates the 1989 Falcon to Tyron Michael Henry.

The struggle is for a lifetime, But the victory is for a moment, And the moment is NOW.

Indeed the struggle is for a lifetime just as slavery for African-Americans seemed. One day of bondage for any living creature represents a century in time. The road for us was not easy, but we have overcome. The struggle to defeat our oppressors is like the struggle that we all have from day to day to be successful, to live to our potential, to teach our children well, and to die with a substantial mark left on the world. Yes, the Struggle Is For A Lifetime.

The victory does not always mean winning. In fact, struggle is victory whether you win or lose. The victory for African-Americans was our freedom from bondage and our right to public facilities, education, entrepreneurship, and our right to cast our votes and make a difference. The victory would not have been as sweet without our forefathers who paved the way. For example: Dubois, Washington, Malcolm X, and the King. The victory is only for a moment because there is always more to achieve.

The moment is now because African-Americans have never been more educated, dedicated, and fortified to make a difference. We live to prove to others that our only difference is in pigmentation. We no longer have inferiority complexes because we know that whatever we want is achievable.

To: Augites, Faculty, Staff, Alumni & Friends
We cannot predict what the next decade will bring. Our lives seem to center around economic factors we cannot control or foresee. As administrators of an organization so dependent on the goodwill and support of an outside constituency, we remain on the knife edge between success and failure. If our Family-Alumni, Faculty, Student Body and Staff guard our flank, we can only become stronger within ourselves. If our Benefactors — Foundations, Corporations, Donors, and Governmental Institutions on the National, State, and Local level continue their support, we can only become better capable of doing the job of educating young people. Our future, simply stated, depends on all of us doing the best we can. Our best must be in educating young minds, the strengthening of young bodies, and the bolstering of young spirits. If we succeed in turning the unformed young person of today into the productive citizen of tomorrow, we have secured the future for generations to come. With your help, there cannot be any other result.

The college broadcasting facility WAUG, provided falcons with plenty to take pride in. WAUG radio continues its growth, but on January 26, 1989 WAUG's television station — Channel 68 WBK officially began its programming. On January 29, 1989 the ground breaking ceremonies took place for the proposed three phase addition on the communications center, which currently houses the radio and television station. The first phase is expected to open during the summer of 1989. The new addition will have facilities for: T.V. studio, classroom, production/master control, print lab, audio lab and offices. The proposed addition will cover 7500 square feet.

Charles Harrison, Sales Manager and Jay Holloway, General Manager have worked diligently toward the success of WAUG.

Operation Harvest was a success once again this year. WAUG staff, from left to right: Charles Harrison, Bernard Dawson, Eric Curry, Thomas Hill.

Early Morning

The fingers of my mind reach out and grab the panic
an empty something
weighing on my every breath
and choking the knotted dreams in my stomach.

It was nice in the days of a shallow but flowing youth.

Manageable loneliness and measurable tears
that would evaporate with the arrival of the promises promised.

There was plenty of time to explore and plenty of time
to ease away from reality
just a bit.

Time to tolerate pain
as a wrinkle in the laughter of discovery.
Everything always new - really new...
and great.

Time to smile fully to welcome the next bout with the next answer
and Hoodoo Blues
that somehow got danced away.

Time to misjudge
knowing that time itself would teach the scars.

Loneliness was a toy top to spin
and then stop.

There's no stopping now -
the spin speeds
and bits of painted memories fly off exposing new memories

for which there is no time

Mentors

Gwendolyn Brooks

For I am rightful fellow of their band.
My best allegiances are to the dead.
I swear to keep the dead upon my mind,
Disdain for all time to be overglad.
Among spring flowers, under summer trees,
By chilling autumn waters, in the frosts
Of supercilious winter—all my days

I'll have as mentors those reproving ghosts.
And at that cry, at that remotest whisper,
I'll stop my casual business. Leave the banquet.
Or leave the ball—reluctant to unclasp her
Who may be fragrant as the flower she wears,
Make gallant bows and dim excuses, then quit
Light for the midnight that is mine and theirs.

A Poem for Black Hearts

Imamu Amiri Baraka

For Malcolm's eyes, when they broke the face of some dumb white man, For Malcolm's hands raised to bless us all black and strong in his image of ourselves, For Malcolm's words fire darts, the victor's tireless thrusts, words hung above the world change as it may, he said it, and for this he was killed, for saying,
and feeling, and being/ change, all collected hot in his heart, For Malcolm's heart, raising us above our filthy cities, for his stride, and his beat, and his address to the grey monsters of the world, For Malcolm's pleas for your dignity, black men, for your life,
black men, for the filling of your minds with righteousness, For all of him dead and gone and vanished from us, and all of him which clings to our speech black god of our time.
For all of him, and all of yourself, look up,
black man, quit stuttering and shuffling, look up,
black man, quit whining and stooping, for all of him,
For Great Malcolm a prince of the earth, let nothing in us rest until we avenge ourselves for his death, stupid animals that killed him, let us never breathe a pure breath if we fail, and white men call us faggots till the end of the earth.

Now its time to change places,
Change in thoughts;
Change in faces.

Run On

Do what you must do!

Run On

The light of love will shine on you.
Choices and Decisions you will make,
Return back to the people;
What others would take.

Run On

Destroy this growing inflation.

Run On

Balance the scales of this nation.
Sensitive to the thoughts of the needy,
Greater than the thoughts of those who are greedy.

Run On

Distribute this wealth untold all around.

Run On

Seeing that the lives of others are safe and sound.

Run On

Pure in heart, Crystal clear mind; Courageous and unselfish actions, in these changing times.

Run On

Got to stop defeat!

Run On

So this world will be at peace.

*Elevation of Christian social activist Barbara C.
Harris causes
religious stir*

By Renée D. Turner

SLIGHT in stature but by no means meek is the Black female minister from Philadelphia whose elevation to Episcopal bishop has stirred ecumenical waters from New England to England. By becoming the first female Episcopal bishop, the Rt. Rev. Barbara Clementine Harris broke a 2,000-year barrier to ascension for women in the Anglican Communion of 27 independent churches. The Communion includes the Episcopal Church. Bishop Harris' elevation rekindled a debate about the sanctity of women bishops, and criticism of the new bishop herself — a skilled urban minister and social activist who spent most of her life as a public relations executive.

MARTIN D LUTHER KING A Y

at St. Augustine's College

A student essay by M. Jaquie Jones

Most students at Saint Augustine's College were not born when Dr. Martin Luther King was killed in Memphis. Those alive were probably too young to understand what happened on April 4, 1968 and why he was killed. Yet on January 16, a day to ponder his impact on racial harmony, equal opportunity, economic parity and social justice, these students observed the King holiday with the sincerity and urgency of yesteryear.

Lighted candles in white, sand filled paper bags lined the walkways of the campus of Saint Aug, placed there by the brothers of Alpha Phi Alpha, Dr. King's fraternity, with the help of members of the Student Government Association and other Augites. The memorial service, held outside in the mall area of the Martin Luther King Jr. Student Union, featured fraternity members, Miss Saint Augustine's College and college officials all urging silent onlookers, to keep the dream alive.

"We are the result of the dream," said Dr. Wiley Davis, student affairs vice president, who recounted his first time seeing Dr. King at the nearby campus of Shaw University.

Earlier, at a prayer breakfast, Saint Augustine's College president Prezell R. Robinson reminded those attending that "all of us cannot be (Dr.) Martin Luther King, but in our own small way, that still, small voice can tell us that there are things we can do to push the struggle.

Students participated in a march in Raleigh's downtown area and an evening program at the Raleigh Civic Center. It was one of several across the state at which blacks and whites gathered to remember the man who, for many people, symbolizes civil rights.

In a voice reminiscent of Dr. King's, one student echoed the famous "I Have A Dream" speech. The stage was set for the day's guest speaker at the Civic Center—Dr. King's nephew, Reverend Vernon King.

Rev. King, a faculty member of the Martin Luther King Center for Nonviolent Social Change in Atlanta, addressed the many young people in the ecumenical service. He intoned a recurrent question: "What has happened to the dream?"

"Too many people became concerned about money and forgot about the fact that some of our brothers and sisters are falling by the wayside." Rev. King said, "Still now there are some states that won't celebrate the holiday. It tells us that everybody is not progressive minded about freedom.

Rev. King spoke on the achievements blacks have made in the past. ". . . That says to me that, yes, we've made some gains. But if we don't keep on progressing, we're going to start regressing. . . . There are still problems in America for Black Americans. I don't know about Mr. Reagan, but I've seen some racism."

Later that Monday night, racism reared its ugly head again as a stark reminder that the struggle is not over. A bomb threat interrupted the final moments of the musical finale, marring a day that the evening news broadcasts called a "success". No bomb was found.

"This is just a reminder of the types of sick people we have in our society," said Monique Legette, vice president of the Student Government Association at Saint Augustine's College. "But with every disappointment, we shall overcome."

The struggle continues

Keep Keepin'

By Lamont Page

I may not qualify for this
I may not measure up to that!
But you can rest assured
I'm proud to be black!
It may take a little longer
To reach the top of my hill,
And my pilgrimage may cause distress
But if I keep on keepin'
I am destined for success!
I've been deprived
Again and again and many a time to come
But if I keep on keepin'
I'm gonna get some-
Respect!
Keep keepin'
I've seen injustice,
Been eliminated and depleted
But if I keep on keepin'
At least my successors will
Have known I have succeeded
When the offspring comes early
Keep keepin'
When the car note is late
Keep keepin'
When your loved one is gone away
Keep keepin'
When your boss cuts your pay
Keep keepin'
When your lady will say
What you don't want her to say
Keep keepin'
Now I'm down and out
No money in my pocket
No one to call my own
No nickel, no dime, no talk on the phone...
No hair to scratch
No one to dare
Only one job to get,
No more variety
Double standards place me in the backwash
Compliments of society!
None heless, I'm gonna keep
Teachin' and preachin'
No matter the consequence,
I got to keep keepin'.

Struggle

By Mel King

It's a struggle,
Developing solidarity.
It's a struggle,
Being positive.
It's a struggle,
Making common unity.
It's a struggle,
Shaping reality.
It's a struggle,
Living.
It's a struggle,
Cause its slow.
But if we struggle,
At developing solidarity,
Being positive,
Shaping reality,
Making common unity,
We will all grow.
Because to struggle,
Is to work for change,
And change is the focus of education,
And education is the basis of knowledge,
That knowledge is the basis for growth,
And growth is the basis for being positive,
And being positive is the basis for building solidarity,
Building solidarity is a way to shape
reality,
And shaping reality is living,
And living is loving,
So struggle.

Black Power

By Eugenia P. Smith

I have the strength
To succeed in life
The strength of a Black man...
Black power
I have the power
To dig the deepest ditch
I have the power
To make a poor man rich...
Black power
I have the wisdom
To make the right choice
And the skill of a Black man
To make a desert moist...
Black power
I have...
The brain
The heart
The love
The strength
I have...Black power

Next plant three rows of squash:

Squash gossip
Squash criticism
Squash indifference

Then plant five rows of lettuce:

Let-us be faithful to duty
Let-us be unselfish
Let-us be loyal
Let-us be true to obligations
Let-us love one another

And no garden is complete without turnips:

Turn-up for important meetings
Turn-up with a smile
Turn-up with good ideas
Turn-up with determination to make everything good and worthwhile.

A Fairytale

If I had the opportunity to describe in one word the aura of that evening it would be fairytale. Cinderella herself could not have dreamed of an evening such as my Coronation night. I actually felt like royalty. The receptiveness of the audience was so overwhelming and the intense and intimate atmosphere seemed to add the finishing touch. As Nita Channey sang the theme song "One Moment In Time," I strolled down the aisles during the Grand March. I felt all eyes on me with faces in the crowd bursting with smiles. At that point I felt the crowd expressing their acceptance of me as their queen and there was not a word or phrase that I could say to express my sincerest appreciation of their action.

Nonetheless, that night could not remain forever, but the honor, pride, and respect, which are inherent attributes (for me) of being Miss Saint Augustine's College, will continue to manifest in my life long after my reign is over. Of all of the honors and awards I have received, I think being Miss Saint Augustine's is my opportunity to give something back.

I believe with all of my heart that God has a special task for me and once it is revealed to me, I hope I can fulfill that task well enough to make history. It is not the crown that makes the person, but the person who makes the crown, I want to be remembered for my efforts as a student leader and scholar not just as a queen.

Coronation: A Spectator's View

The night was calm although its' air was filled with intensity and excitement. The campus queens arrived with their escorts all dressed in their finest. Tonight is the night. All coronation coordinators realize that their preparation is completed and hope their future memories will reflect a spectacular gala with no major mistakes or mishaps. The audience which is made up of administrators, family members, friends, and spectators wait with glowing anticipation. Now it's time to meet the lovely ladies that represent various organizations of Saint Augustine's College. Each Queen takes her time walking down the aisle as to savour her moment in the lime light.....

And now, the moment in which the night has awaited has finally arrived. Ladies and gentlemen, our queen Ms. Jeanna Hunter. She moves with quiet dignity and pride. All eyes are on her for the night is dedicated to her. She has overwhelmed us all with her inner beauty and graciousness. She is our queen and the epitome of what all ladies should strive to be.....

Jeanna, Continue to shoot for the moon, and if by chance you miss
You'll already be among the stars. LaDonna K. Wharton

In 1985, We began a journey that would lead us from children to adults. Upon entering St. Augustine's College thoughts of the future and success filled our minds and dreams. Would we be able to handle the demands of college? How would we react to our new surroundings and our new peers? These questions and many more struck and uncertainty in our hearts.

Arriving the last week in August, we were roomed in St. Augustine's College's immaculate freshman housing -- Atkinson Hall for men and Delsney and Gould Halls for women. We dined extravagantly in the school cafeteria. Let's not forget about the two swimming pools we were told about. If there was any doubt before this point, it was all gone now; we weren't home anymore.

After being prominent members of our various high school classes, we were now peons. How fast we fell from big men and women on campus to being taunted for having "no hours". As a class though, we accepted the challenge to press on towards the goal of adapting to and succeeding at college.

OUR SOPHOMORE YEAR 1986 - 1987

We returned for a second year at Saint Augustine's College filled with confidence and a bit more security. Having been around already we "knew the ropes". We now had hours and the closeness to form bonds that would last for the rest of our college careers. As we began to enter our respective majors, our ideals were formed. Informative and idealistic speakers addressed our student body to motivate the sophomore class to mature and grow. Patricia Russell-McCloud, Stokely Carmichael, and Democratic presidential candidate Gary Hart exposed us to various views and visions.

Campus Events:

DISTRESS
by PAPA ROY

Those afters
That hang around
Here and there
As drops of water
Sliding down a sunburnt mirror
And which dry up
Undoubtedly...
Those tomorrows,
Hung up by both hands,
To the glamorous ropes of hope;
Growing only distress...
For we, linked to past tense
Where you'll see us swinging
Feet in the air,
Breathing some unhealthy zeros.
Those tomorrows,
Those afters,
Those hesitating farewells
We don't dare to cancel,
We don't dare to carry on
Which leave us standing there
Bounded to the smashing wheel
Of times
And years,
And lives,
And deaths...
Distress...distress...distress,
Dreadfully distressed.

Bye Bye Lolita Hernandez-Gray

Bye bye in the morning
to dreams of unfinished yesterdays.
I'll dream tonight of unfinished today
and wave it bye bye tomorrow.

Bye bye in the morning
to cereal bowls and unfinished homework and coffee stains and unfinished laundry and garbage.
I'll dream today it doesn't exist
and wave it bye bye again tomorrow.

Bye bye in the afternoon
to the time clock, to the walls,
to industrial metal, industrial oil,
industrial tools, industrial jokes,
industrial games.
I'll dream tonight that tomorrow will be different and wave it bye bye for now.

Bye bye in the evening to the leftovers
and leftover dishes
and leftover homework
and leftover bedtime stories
and leftover tired from the night before,
the morning before,
the day before,
moments before now.

Bye bye.

Byeieiei...

Byeieiei... from the 20 year Reunion Class. See You in 20 more years.

HISTORY - 101

by W. H. "Buck" Godfrey

At times she amazes me.
She is that new Black woman
That's not so new.
You see she germinated from Tubman's soil,
So actually she is quite old.
Only now when she steps out,
People notice her.
She is so many.
In fact, the university
From which she received
Her Ph.D.
Just celebrated its 400th anniversary.

Dream Variation

by Langston Hughes

To fling my arms wide
In some place of the sun,
To whirl and to dance
Till the white day is done.
Then rest at cool evening
Beneath a tall tree
While night comes on gently,
Dark like me—
That is my dream!

To fling my arms wide
In the face of the sun,
Dance! Whirl! Whirl!
Till the quick day is done.
Rest at pale evening . . .
A tall, slim tree . . .
Night coming tenderly
Black like me.

We Wear the Mask

by Paul Laurence Dunbar

We wear the mask that grins and lies,
It hides our cheeks and shades our eyes,—
This debt we pay to human guile;
With torn and bleeding hearts we smile,
And mouth with myriad subtleties.

Why should the world be overwise,
In counting all our tears and sighs?
Nay, let them only see us, while
We wear the mask.

Models in Business Fashion Show, directed by Jacques Moore.

We smile, but, O great Christ, our cries
To thee from tortured souls arise.
We sing, but oh the clay is vile
Beneath our feet, and long the mile;
But let the world dream otherwise,
We wear the mask!

Students with Budwiser Jam participants.

We arrived back to St. Aug a little wiser and a little less in number. Like most schools, we had lost a few members of the class. However, we came back to the same long lines of registration and we saw the first real freshmen move into Gould Hall, the male freshman dorm. We also were welcomed into the new dorm, called the New Dorm.

The new school year began with our newly elected SGA president, Alexander Dabney. One of the most memorable SGA functions was Black College Day. We saw at least one thousand Augites marching on to Shaw University and then on to the capital. It was the closest we ever came to all round Falcon spirit.

Another year brought the new into the spotlight. Miss Saint Augustine's Collogo, Rhonda Williams, was crowned before an inspired and happy audience. Before you know it, it was Thanksgiving, Christmas and time to go home for the holidays.

Students arrived back to St. Aug to find our selves submerged in the white stuff. Yes, it had snowed and for some students, an excuse not to go to class, and for some teachers it was time not to teach class. The year started late and it seemed you either had a rushed semester or a semester not to do too much. During the snow storm, some thought it was time to become devilish and break or destroy what property they could.

St. Aug became the focus of the TV and Radio stations ratings game as reporters interviewed students about the outbreak of Tuberculosis. For some students this was the first time the school's doctor had to meet with us on a Wednesday.

Homecoming saw an unusual turn in that we had a gospel group for our main event. Felicia Richardson had been crowned Miss Homecoming and no one wanted to be Mr. Saint Augustine's College. We saw a near win turn into an absolute loss in our basketball homecoming game.

Time flew by so fast that instead of wishing to be seniors, we were pre-registering and hoping that that one professor would be lenient and give that "C". We became seniors and had dreams of May 14, 1989.

OUR SENIOR YEAR
1988-1989

The Class of 1989 had one of the most radical senior year's Saint Augustine's had seen in quite some time. As the year rolled in we were faced with the news of the tragic death of our energetic and meek classmate, Terron Henry. Even though he had departed in body, his spirit and fire remained with us.

In spite of the tragic loss of Terron that saddened many of us, the Class of 1989 attained a new reason to smile again. That reason was the return of our scintillating J.A. Olympic super-star, Trevor Graham.

Our senior year met the arrival of a new Student Government Association President, Gregory Dent and a new "Miss Saint Augustine's College 1988-89", Jeanna Hunter. Her reign was full of grace and charm as she reflected the aims of the institution.

The graduating class of '89 definitely had its share of parties, and accordingly faced a party of a different nature and color- the campaign of Jesse Jackson on the Democratic ticket for President of the United States. During his campaign, we were fortunate to have Rev. Jackson participate in a voter registration drive on our campus. Consequently, Jesse Jackson's visit ignited an outbreak of visits by other prominent men and women. These include: Dr. Therman Evans as speaker for Founder's Day; Dick Gregory, Health and Diet specialist; Joshua Smith, founder and CEO of the Maxima Corporation; Bob Lanier, Lite-All Cast and Former player for the Detroit Pistons and Milwaukee Bucks as the speaker for the Athletic Banquet.

Overall, the graduating class of 1989 faced many facets of life only to leave Saint Augustine's to face more. During the 1988-89 academic year, the senior class encountered numerous student expeditions that aimed to "modify" the problems overall on campus. There was also a massive outbreak of campus violence. Through it all, the Class of '89 fought along with the other students to rectify these problems. Nonetheless, the struggle still continues and the Class of '89 challenges the succeeding graduating classes to accept the things they cannot change, the courage to change the things within their realm and the wisdom to know the difference.

Division of Education

Dr. Donald Watson
Chairman

The chief mission of the Division of Education is the administration of the teacher education policies of the college in collaboration with the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction. This involves elementary education (early childhood education, K-4, and intermediate, 4-6); secondary education 9-12; and special subjects, K-12. A second function is a liaison administrative relation with all major departments which prepare teachers. The Division of Education serves all students in relationship with some phases of psychology and orientation programs of the college.

Mrs. Crystal Bodie
Secretary

Dr. Kamau Kambon
Assistant Professor

Dr. Ernestine Leach
Assistant Professor

The objectives of the Division of Education are as follows:

1. To administer Professional Education
2. To provide administration for the Department of Education
3. To provide administration for the Department of Physical Education
4. To provide services in College Dynamics
5. To provide courses in psychology as a service area
6. To promote psychology as an area in which students may earn a major through a cooperative arrangement with North Carolina State University and Meredith College.

Dr. George Cliette
Associate Professor

Mrs. Gloria Burke
Assistant Professor

Judith Admundson
Assistant Professor

Mr. George King, III
Instructor

Dr. William J. Holloway
Assistant Professor

Department of Sociology

Igal Spraggins
Associate Professor

The mission of the Department of Sociology is to acquaint students with the forces and principles basic to the operation of human society and help them to relate this understanding to contemporary social problems; the department wishes to assist students in understanding the individual, society, and culture; to provide a useful background for diverse fields including counseling, placement in the areas of public service, and social work as well as graduate study.

Jennifer Cherry
Instructor

Department of Radio and Television

Eric Curry
Assistant Professor

The mission of the Department of Communications is to provide both curricular and co-curricular experiences designed to prepare its majors to become competent communications practitioners and well-informed media consumers. The department offers three discrete areas of academic study. Each area emphasizes critical skills that will enhance the major's opportunities to experience success in their chosen careers. Students can gain laboratory experience at the college's commercial radio and television stations, WAUG AM 750 and TV-68; the college newspaper, "The Pen" and the year book.

Division of Business

Department of Social Sciences

Alan Cooper
Associate Professor

The mission for the Department of History and Political Science is to serve Saint Augustine's College by providing a well-defined program of courses in the Social Sciences that best provide training in designated areas such as history, political science/pre-law, and social studies with teacher certification for students seeking careers in government, foreign services, industry, education, law and preparation for professional and/or graduate schools. The department seeks to expand the intellectual horizons of students and broaden their life experiences through substantive field experiences and highly structured internship programs. A student pursuing a degree in the Department will acquire a better understanding of his/her society as well as an appreciation for other cultures and peoples that make up the world community in which we live.

Department of Art

David Johnson
Assistant Professor

The primary purpose of the Art Program is to provide a stimulating and challenging educational environment. To assist students in becoming aware, sensitive and perceptive individuals with sufficient technical skills and understanding of the practical and theoretical aspects of our appreciation.

Department of Natural Sciences

Larry Thompson
Assistant Professor

The mission for the Division of Natural Sciences is to prepare all its majors to become knowledgeable agents of change as well as capable, creative and responsible citizens of independence and integrity. Furthermore, the Division seeks to provide an atmosphere in which each Science major can develop his or her intellectual capacity to a maximum by sharing in learning experiences which results in the acquisition of scientific knowledge, techniques and skills.

The Division of Natural Sciences offer programs of studies designed to provide fundamental training in the Life Sciences, Physical Science and Mathematics for students planning careers in teaching, medicine, dentistry, allied health, industrial hygiene, government, computer science, engineering and research.

Irene Clark
Associate Professor

Department of Mathematics

James Nelson
Chairman

The Department of Mathematics offers courses which are designed to offer an understanding of the field at various levels ranging from Mathematics needed by students for majoring in the other curricula to preparing students for graduate study in mathematics, mathematics education, and for industrial pursuits. Mathematics is the key to understanding and mastering the physical, social, and biological worlds.

The objectives of the Department of Mathematics and Physics are threefold: (1) to develop within students the ability to do quantitative thinking; (2) to develop students' ability to use mathematics skills in vocational skills, related natural sciences, and graduate study; and (3) to prepare teachers of mathematics and physics.

Department of English

Helen Othow
Chairman

The mission of the Department of English is to develop the student's individual ability to read, to think, and to write effectively. To this end, the department offers a broad program aimed at cultivating within its students an understanding of and competence in the basic communication skills of the English language. Instruction includes a developmental reading program which reinforces and extends the desirable reading skills basic to comprehension and enjoyment of advanced and complex forms of communication.

Chairman

Ruth Paine
Professor

The Department of Modern Foreign Languages is organized to meet the general requirements of the college as one of its basic disciplines for a bachelor's degree, the specific requirements of the various departments, and the specific requirements of those wishing to major in a foreign language in order to prepare themselves to teach, to do graduate work, or use a foreign language in their business or professional careers.

Department of Music

Everett Thomas
Assistant Professor

James Longmire
Instructor

Harold Jeffereys
Associate Professor

The Department of Music provides training to those who wish to major or minor in music so that they will be equipped to contribute to the worthy development of music as a constructive and contributed force in a contemporary society.

The department offers a curriculum in Public School Music leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree with emphasis in vocal or instrumental music. By successfully meeting the curricula, the music majors become eligible to qualify for the North Carolina General Music Certificate and to teach music in the public elementary and high schools of the state.

Students wishing to major in music but who are not interested in the teaching profession may pursue the non-sequence of courses leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree in Applied Music.

Department of Special Services

Mrs. Rebecca Weatherford
Director

The Saint Augustine's Special Services Program is primarily designed to provide support services to freshmen and sophomores enrolled at the institution.

This program maintains the overall philosophy in the utilization of the competency based learning system, methods and approaches to aid program participants in enhancing their academic performances. When appropriate, students will be taken on excursions designed to compliment and enhance their learning effectiveness. In addition, class will be divided into small workshop-type sections to afford students the opportunity for feedback from fellow students, closer monitoring from the instructor and peer tutors participating in the assistance of classroom instruction.

The Special Services Program consists of five major components: Counseling, Tutorial Assistance, Academic Advisement, Special Enrichment Courses and Cultural Enrichment Activities. These services are offered free to qualified students.

Pretty women wonder where my secret lies.
I'm not cute or built to suit a fashion model's size
But when I start to tell them,
They think I'm telling lies.
I say,
It's in the reach of my arms,
The span of my hips,
The stride of my step,
The curl of my lips.
I'm a woman
Phenomenally.
Phenomenal woman,
That's me.

I walk into a room
Just as cool as you please,
And to a man,
The fellows stand or
Fall down on their knees.
Then they swarm around me,
A hive of honey bees.
I say,
It's the fire in my eyes,
And the flash of my teeth,
The swing in my waist,
And the joy in my feet.
I'm a woman
Phenomenally.
Phenomenal woman,
That's me.

Men themselves have wondered

What they see in me.
They try so much
But they can't touch
My inner mystery.
When I try to show them
They say they still can't see.
I say,
It's in the arch of my back,
The sun of my smile,
The ride of my breasts,
The grace of my style.
I'm a woman
Phenomenally.
Phenomenal woman,
That's me.

Now you understand
Just why my head's not bowed.
I don't shout or jump about
Or have to talk real loud.
When you see me passing
It ought to make you proud.
I say,
It's in the click of my heels,
The bend of my hair,
The palm of my hand,
The need for my care.
'Cause I'm a woman
Phenomenally.
Phenomenal woman,
That's me.

Soul goal turns to Seoul silver

By Gerald Hutchinson
Sports Editor

The Olympic Games only take place every four years, and thousands of athletes compete for a few hundred medals.

So, the opportunity to know and associate with an Olympic medalist is rare. However, at St. Augustine's College, we are privileged to have such an opportunity.

Trevor Graham is a senior business management major from Kingston, Jamaica, and a member of Jamaica's silver medal 1600 meter relay team in track and field at the Seoul Olympics.

Graham, the 1987 NCAA Division II 400 meters champion and eight-time All American, placed fourth in the 400 meters at the Jamaican Olympic Track and Field Trials.

A lower back injury prevented him from winning the 400 meters, but he ran well enough to earn a spot on the relay team.

Graham believes that the physical and mental preparations of making the Olympics is more difficult than the games themselves. At the Olympics, you compete against the best athletes in the world; however, Graham said that you have to consider yourself the best too.

"You see so many different people and you're wondering if I'm going to run against this guy, is this guy going to run against me," said Graham.

We (Jamaica) were expected to win the silver medal because you already know the U.S. was going to win the gold," Graham said, "but the other teams were trying to upset the Jamaican team and take the silver and fortunately they didn't."

Although Graham competed in the heats and semi-finals on the relay he relinquished his spot in the finals to fellow Jamaican Winthrop Graham.

"My legs were tight ... I wasn't physically prepared and we (the relay team) wanted Winthrop to get a medal too," said Graham. In the relay six medals can be awarded, so any medal that the final four-member team earned previous runners would also earn. "I was very happy to see that we won a silver medal, (Trevor) Graham said.

Graham said that he would attempt to make his second Olympic team when the games move to Barcelona, Spain in 1992. "However, if I don't make it I would like to coach someone else; I won't just keep my experience to myself, I would like to share it with others," said Graham.

Men's Track & Field & Cross Country

Of the many athletic sports played here at Saint Augustine's College during the 1988-89 seasons, the Cross Country & Track programs under the coaching of George Williams, Roy Ector, Regina Hawkins and Freddie Bennett have again put Saint Augustine's on the map. The Men's Cross Country Team placed second in the CIIA, with the Women finishing in first place tie with Norfolk State. In the Indoor Track competition, the Falcons were the CIIA and other Division II schools; the women took second in the CIIA and qualified for the NCAA Nationals where they placed fourth overall. While the women completed their phase, the men out ran the competition by sweeping the CIIA Conference Meet and outlasting other team to win the Division II Indoor Track Championships. Outdoor Track was sort of a carbon copy of Indoor Track with the women taking second and the men taking first in the CIIA Conference Meet. This has been truly a great year for the Falcons.

Dr. Freddie Bennett — Coach

With the memory of last year's loss of the championship nipping at their heels, the Saint Augustine's Volleyball team went into the season prepared to do battle with any and all comers, including Division I Foes: North Carolina State & Duke University. The challenge of playing those powers set the stage for what was to become an impressive display of talent and competitive spirit within the CIAA Conference and in Tournaments. The team finished the season with an overall record of 23-6 and 21-0 in the Conference, and through team work Regained The Championship Crown for 1988 in true style. Named to the All-CIAA team were: Michelle Wilson & Rose Anne Burkett. Co-Captain Burkett was voted the Tournament's most valuable player. Michelle Wilson — Highest Grade Point Average, Ginny Garland — Most Improved, Sabrina Reese — Most Valuable Freshman, Deanna Robinson — Most Valuable Newcomer, Danya Coles — Co-Captain, Joangelia Cody, Annise King, Carletta Fellows, Michelle Scott, and Lynn McConico are team members.

The 1988-89 Falcon Netters ended their season with an overall 13-2 record, placed third as a team in the CIAA tennis championships and finishing second in the southern division. Co-Captains Howard Rankine & Christopher Mamman showed poise and leadership on and off the court, and provided the attitude necessary to be a winner. Chris was awarded for his efforts, the most valuable player for the southern division and holds highest grade point average. While the team is a young one, the overall talent is impressive and with hard work will become a championship calibre team. # BASEBALL

The 1989 baseball season saw the team embark on a playing season with high expectations. Expectations that were never fully realized due to several factors during the season; but the highlight of the season was a surprising third place finish in the CIAA conference tournament. This year's team was led by seniors Theodore Sweeting (Captain), Clarence Allen (coaches award), and Kelvin Holly (captain, most valuable pitcher). These young men showed outstanding leadership throughout the season and tournament.

They were complemented with excellent play from All-CIAA outfielder, Jerry Waters (most valuable freshman) and infielder Julian Pratt (highest batting average & most outstanding player). Newcomers brought a ray of sunshine to the program this season with the addition of pitcher, Jason Smith (most valuable newcomer and pitcher); First baseman — Dexter Evans (most valuable freshman), Catcher — Ray Joyner, Outfielder — Darryl Evans, & pitcher — Darryl Ranger, other members are Alonzo Salter — (most improved & highest grade point average 3.37). ## MEN'S 1988-89 Saint Augustine's Basketball Team placed where everyone predicted they would. For a young team with only three seniors and a whole arsenal of freshmen and sophomores they did very well. With the departure of Darryl Johnson and Clarence (Muggsy) Leggett the void was filled by All-CIAA, All-Tournament Player LaShun McDaniel — (Co-Captain, most valuable player) and three-point shooting guard Donte Blanton; McDaniel averaged 20.2 points per game, 2.2 steals, 2.6 assists while Blanton shot 44 percent from the three point area and 79 percent from the line. Also adding to this duo was John Willis — (coaches award) who averaged 17.6 points per game. Personnel like Milton Pouncy — (most valuable freshman), Shaun Shell — (most improved), Anthony Varnado, Greg Bell, and others helped make this team complete. The Falcons finished the season at 13-15 overall coming in third in the Southern Division. The record and placing does not show how the team performed during the season, losing close games by a margin of 2 to 3 points against the likes of Francis Marion, Elizabeth City and Division II Champ, N.C. Central. The Falcons advanced to the quarterfinals of the CIAA tournament losing to the Spartans of Norfolk State in an exciting match-up. Now that the Falcons can add experience to their depth, they are the team to watch for in the 1989-90 season. Other members are Iantham Alleyne — (co-captain), Shawn Garrett — (most valuable newcomer), Michael Dearman, Darius Giles, John Hunter, John Rabb, Levi Taylor. Coach — Harvey Heartley, Assistant Coaches — Henry White and Rick High.

The North Carolina Rho Chapter of Alpha Chi is a coeducational society whose purpose is to promote academic excellence and exemplary character among college and university students and to honor those who achieve such distinction. Its name derives from the initial letters of the Greek words ALETHEIA, meaning TRUTH, and XARAKTER, meaning CHARACTER. As a general honor society, Alpha Chi admits to membership students from all academic disciplines.

Membership in Alpha Chi recognizes previous accomplishments and provides opportunity for continued growth and service. It seeks above all else to serve the needs of the students who comprise its membership. As a phrase from its constitution states, Alpha Chi seeks to find ways to assist them in "making scholarship effective for good."

The colors are emerald green and sapphire blue, signifying victory and truth. The motto of the organization is taken from the Gospel of John: "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

The Saint Augustine's Community Theater Dance Group was founded in November 1986. The objective of the dance group is to perform at official events at the college and to travel to various schools to perform. The dance group has presented two major productions, "Coronation 86" and "African Roots, Rhythms and Revival." The group had also made guest appearances at the Miss Homecoming Pageant 1986, Parents' Day 1986, the International Students' Dance and the Student Government Initiation.

The aims of Sigma Tau Delta are to promote a mastery of written expression, to encourage worthwhile reading, and to foster a spirit of good fellowship among students of the English language and literature. The society seeks to stimulate a desire on the part of its members to express life in terms of truth and beauty and to gain a first-hand acquaintance of the chief literary masterpieces of our language. It endeavors to stimulate its members to achievement by providing the rewards of membership and congenial association with persons of like aspirations.

The society is an outgrowth of the English Club at Dakota Wesleyan University, Mitchell, South Dakota. At an early date, a constitution was drawn up which defined the name and purpose of the organization, qualifications for and degrees of membership, and the rules governing national and local organization. It prescribed the ceremonies of initiation, authorized the official insignia and provided for the establishment of THE RECTANGLE, the official journal of the society.

The words Sigma Tau Delta are the initial letters in Greek of the English words symbolizing "sincerity, truth, and design." The official colors are cardinal and black.

The 1988-89 Pen Staff is composed of many energetic, creative, and talented individuals. Its main focus is to produce a college newspaper that will not simply record school history, but one that will exemplify scholarship, diversity, and progressiveness.

"For as high as the Falcon soars, so shall we strive to serve you" is the paper's theme. This theme is the driving force behind each member, and it serves as the basis for constructive, informative, and honest journalism.

The St. Augustine's College Gospel Choir was organized in the early nineteen seventies by a small group of male students on the campus of St. Augustine's. Today, it has a membership of more than sixty active members.

The main purpose of the Gospel Choir is to travel throughout communities, towns, and cities spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ through songs of praise. For the past four years, the choir has toured the state of South Carolina and performed at high schools and churches in the hometowns of several of our choir members.

In the early seventies, the Gospel Choir recorded an album titled, "Sing Unto All Generations" under the label of Audiophonics, Inc., of Raleigh, NC.

The Psychology Club's advisors are Dr. Thomas Simmons, Chairman of the Education Division; Dr. Judith Amundson, Assistant Professor of Psychology; and Dr. George Cliette, Associate Professor of Education.

The goal of the psychology club is to orientate psychology majors to the diverse opportunities available to them in their field and to them in the field and to encourage self development.

The future goal is for all psychology majors and minors to pull together in unity for service and improvement of the community.

The purpose of the St. Augustine's College Democratic Club is to stimulate college students' political thought and active interest in governmental affairs and to support and promote the ideals and principles of the Democratic Party of the United States.

As members of the Democratic Club, in order to become effective and productive citizens, they strive to remain well informed on current political issues, crises, and affairs and to convey that knowledge to society. They make objective decisions and form unbiased opinions on the political action of Democrats, Republicans, and Independents, in the interest of their institution, community, and country. They support the club as a uniform body in all of its endeavors, while refraining from physical violence and malicious slander.

They implement all action based on reason, coherence of plan, necessity, and justice. By doing this, they hope to make society a more tolerable place for present and future generations.

Phi Beta Lambda is a national organization for all students in post-secondary schools and colleges enrolled in business, office, or teacher education programs who accept the purpose of Phi Beta Lambda and subscribe to its creed. Saint Augustine's Chapter is Lambda Chi, which was established in 1966 and reactivated in the 1986-1987 academic year.

The purpose of the organization is to: "... provide opportunities for post-secondary and college students to develop vocational competencies for business and office occupations and business teacher education. Phi Beta Lambda is an integral part of the instructional program and in addition promotes a sense of civic and personal responsibility."

The organization has approximately twenty active members of the 1987-88 school year. Some of the activities planned for Lambda Chi are to attend the State Convention in the Spring, where members will compete in various business management events and are planning a Spring Phi Beta Lambda/National Association of Black Accountants Debate.

The Business and Office Education Club, formerly The Business Education Club, began functioning on the Saint Augustine's College campus on February 23, 1977. The purpose of the club then, and now, is to foster positive relationships among students with similar interests, to promote attitudes of professionalism among students, to provide meaningful services to the community, and to encourage academic excellence among all members.

The Business and Office Education Club is composed of students whose majors are Office Administration and Business Education. The club colors are navy and gray. BOEC is active in the community. Its activities include: sponsoring a week of activities during National Secretaries Week, A Dress for Success Fashion Show, Campus Secretary Day, workshops for seniors on resume preparation, parties for underprivileged youth during holiday seasons, and many other projects geared towards campus, community, and self-improvement.

The Business and Office Education Club will celebrate its 10th year of existence in February 1988. The club will continue to strive to uphold its motto: "Growth through Professionalism, Unity, Service, and Knowledge."

The Theta Chapter of Mu Beta Psi incorporates Alpha Psi Mu Fraternity and Phi Mu Beta Sorority as one here on the campus of Saint Augustine's College. This fraternity, sometimes called the 'Music Frat,' began at North Carolina State University in 1928. St. Aug has the only Black chapter in the nation.

Mu Beta Psi is considered a fraternity despite the incorporation of women because "they, too, are accepted as brothers." The organization places emphasis on brotherhood and fellowship.

The members of the Alpha Eta Omega Christian Fellowship began in 1974 to form unity and brotherhood between the Christians on the Campus of Saint Augustine's College as a means of unity, spiritual growth and love. Uniting as a nondenominational body to uplift and to glorify the name of the Most High God, members believe and follow the teachings of the Holy Bible and not those of any one denomination or church-related body. The sincere purpose of this group is to let the campus along with the world know that Jesus is coming soon.

Alpha Kappa Mu National Honor Society is a general scholarship honor society open to junior and senior men and women in all academic areas. It was founded at Tennessee A&I State College in Nashville on November 26, 1937.

Alpha Kappa Mu was admitted to membership in the Association of College Honor Societies in 1952 and was incorporated on September 7, 1977, under the laws of the State of South Carolina.

Alpha Kappa Mu National Honor Society grew out of an idea conceived by Dr. George W. Gore, Jr., then Dean of Tennessee A&I State College. Since its inception in 1937, Alpha Kappa Mu has grown in size, in scope, and in its influence upon the academic excellence of American college and university students.

The National Association of Black Accountants (NABA) offers a unique opportunity for accountants and accounting students from minority groups to pursue their highest aspirations for professional growth and development.

The Math and Engineering Club known before as the Math Club has been established for many years on the campus of St. Augustine's College. Its purpose is to help its members in both the academic and social aspects of college life. Today the club is active in increasing academic enthusiasm among its members and developing high school students' interest in the math and engineering fields and sponsoring social activities.

St. Aug's Computer Consultant Experts (SACE) is a club dedicated to promoting awareness in the field of computer science.

Through lectures, seminars, trips, group projects and workshops, their aim is to promote creativity, independence and individuality among members. They strive to create a network between the administration, faculty, students, and the business world.

The club was organized during the fall of 1985.

Its chief organizer was Matthew Brooks, an IBM employee, who is a visiting instructor. The club chairman is Gary Grady, a senior computer science major.

The club will be releasing a magazine, THE COMPUTER NETWORK, this fall showing new ideas and trends in the computer field. The club will attempt to show how computers are being used in the many different fields of study and in various occupations. Another goal of the magazine is to reach out to the business world and to make them aware of the students here at St. Augustine's College.

The club has a Tutorial Committee, which is responsible for assigning tutors to individuals who need assistance in computer languages and for those who are simply interested in learning about computers.

The Computer Club welcomes all majors. One does not have to be a Computer Science major to join the club or to learn how to use computers.

HEAVEN'S GROCERY STORE

I was walking down life's highway
A long time ago,
One day I saw a sign that read
"HEAVEN'S GROCERY STORE"
As I got a little closer,
The door came open wide
And when I later found myself
I was standing there inside.
I saw a host of angels
That were standing everywhere
One handed me a basket and said,
"My child, now shop with care."
Everything a child of God needs
Was in that Grocery Store,
And all you couldn't carry
You could come back the next day for more.
First, I got some PATIENCE,
And LOVE was in the same row.
Further down was UNDERSTANDING,
Which you need wherever you go.
I got a box of WISDOM
And a bag or two of FAITH
I just couldn't miss the HOLY GHOST
Cause it was all over the place.
I stopped to get some STRENGTH AND COURAGE
To help me run this race;
By then, my basket was getting full,
But I remembered I needed GRACE.
I didn't forget SALVATION
For Salvation there was free;
So I tried to get enough of that
To Save both you and me.
Then, I started up to the counter
To pay my Grocery bill
For now, I thought I had everything,
To do my Master's will.
At the end of the aisle I saw PRAYER,
And I just had to put that in;
For I knew when I stepped outside,
I would run right into sin
PEACE AND JOY were plentiful;
They were on the very last shelf.
Songs and praises were stacked nearby,
So I just helped myself.
Then, I said to the angel,
"Now how much do I owe?"
He just smiled and said to me,
"Just take them wherever you go."
Again, I smiled at him and said
"How much do I really owe?"
He smiled again and said, "MY CHILD,
"JESUS PAID YOUR BILL A LONG TIME AGO."

Winners Are People Like You

Winners take chances.
Like everyone else, they fear failing,
but they refuse to let fear control them.
Winners don't give up.
When life gets rough, they hang in until the going gets better.
Winners are flexible.
They realize there is more than one way
and are willing to try others.
Winners know they are not perfect.
they respect their weaknesses
while making the most of their strengths.
Winners fall, but they don't stay down.
They stubbornly refuse to let a fall
keep them from climbing . . .
Winners don't blame
fate for their failures
nor luck for their successes.
Winners accept responsibility for their lives.
Winners are positive thinkers
who see good in all things.
From the ordinary, they make the extraordinary.
Winners believe in the path they have chosen
even when it's hard,
even when others can't see where they are going.
Winners are patient.
They know a goal is only as worthy as the effort that's required to achieve it.
Winners are people like you.
They make this world a better place to be.
